Headline:
Scattered heavy showers and sunny spells. Feeling cold.

Today:
Bright spells and scattered, locally heavy showers throughout this morning. The showers will be locally heavy and mixed with hail, and wintry over the higher Lakeland fells. More sunshine around in the afternoon, but feeling cold in the strong wind. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers will fade leaving a dry and cold evening with clear skies. After midnight scattered showers will affect parts of the south, these falling as sleet or snow in places. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Thursday:
Isolated wintry showers in the south first thing on Thursday will swiftly clear to leave a fine, dry and cold day. Cloudier with rain and hill snow in the evening. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Overnight rain and hill snow clear before dawn leaving Friday dry and bright. Further rain Friday evening, then unsettled and very windy on Saturday. Sunshine and isolated showers on Sunday.
